I have lived in Windmill Gardens since 1975. I chose this area to be close to open space. Local people will have their very existence compromised if this development goes ahead. Years of building sites, lorries and gridlocked roads.

It's all about making money with no regard for people's well-being. I grew up in an inner London borough and moved here to get away from that built up area to have a bit of breathing space. I implore you to reconsider this decision and the impact it will have on people living here.
